The College of Law will hold all courses online, via Blackboard Collaborate, Zoom, or a similar platform, except for the Agen Summer Program and NIU Law clinics, which will held in-person only.

Information regarding tuition for the summer session may be obtained from the Bursar’s Office. By University rule, tuition waivers (including those held by Research Assistants) may not be used for summer courses, except for tuition waivers held by Graduate Assistants.

As in recent years, there will be two, non-overlapping summer sessions. The first session will begin on Monday, May 13 and end on Wednesday, July 3, but please consult the course descriptions below to ascertain the actual first and last days of class for each course, which will likely be different. The date and time of a course’s final exam is listed below the first and last days of class for each course. All changes to exam dates and times must be approved by an Associate Dean, even if a request is made to a faculty member. Faculty cannot make exceptions to this rule.

Students may not be enrolled for more than 7 credit hours in a summer session, and students may receive no more than 10 credits total for summer courses.
